Exhibitors are working hard on their animal projects, including raising lambs, beef cattle, goats, pigs, rabbits, and poultry such as chickens and turkeys. Through these activities, they are gaining valuable knowledge in animal husbandry, veterinary medicine, economics, business, marketing, and leadership. This hands-on experience equips them to become engaged citizens, community leaders, and wise decision-makers in the future. Their career exploration extends beyond agriculture. We encourage you to continue supporting our youth, as they are the promise and future of tomorrow.
